Space and Naval Warfare Systems Center Charleston Awards Contract

CHARLESTON, S.C. — AT&T Government Solutions, Inc., Vienna, Va., is being awarded a $10,361,813 indefinite delivery, indefinite quantity, time and material, performance-based type contract to provide engineering and technical support services to Space and Naval Warfare Systems Center, Charleston S.C. for the Joint Warfare Systems (JWARS) Program. The contractor shall provide engineering, technical, and development support services of a non-personal nature encompassing, but not limited to, software development and modifications, analytical support, scenario development, installation and maintenance, configuration management, testing, and verification, validation and accreditation for JWARS components in support of the JWARS Program Office. This contract includes four one-year options, which, if exercised, would bring the cumulative value of the contract to $54,554,915. Work will be performed in Charleston, S.C. (47%) and Washington, D.C. (53%) and is expected to be completed by May 2009. Contract funds in the amount of $50,000 will not expire at the end of the current fiscal year. The contract was competitively procured under full and open competition. The Request for Proposal was posted on the SPAWAR Systems Center E-Commerce website and one offer was received. The Space and Naval Warfare Systems Center, Charleston S.C. is the contracting activity (N65236-04-D-6710).
